Race summaries

2000

Debut under the rain. Ready, set, go... and Kenyans are already in the lead. At the 30th km (1h31'04") remain just two runners: Simon Biwott and Philip Tanui. But the fight does not last long. Biwott runs faster than Tanui and even if the pace drops, the last half hour is a "one man show", which ends with the Simon Biwott's victory in 2h09'00". Second, with a gap of more than three minutes, Roberto Barbi (2h12'04"). In the last part of the race the Italian managed to close the gap and to leave Brazilian Elas Bastos (2h12'06") and Kenyans Tanui and Ruto behind him. Italian Lucilla Andreucci easily wins the female race in 2h29'43", with a 5-minute margin over Judith Nagy.

2001

5,600 runners and 4,356 finishers (313 women) in a cold but sunny day. Philip Rugut and Frederik Chumba lead the pack at the half marathon in 1h03'59". Bong-Ju Lee, Cheruyot and Nada Saya are in front, with Andriani and Caballero in the chase. Andriani is the most active, but after the 40th km the two Africans get rid of rivals. The podium is composed by John Nada Saya, Cheruyot and Andriani. The script of the women's race is immediately clear. Alice Chelangat, 25 year old Kenyan, gets away at the half marathon and never looks back.

2002

Three runners in less than 1 second: only the tv images can confirm that the winner is the Kenyan Robert Cheruiyot, second place for his compatriot Michael Rotich and third for Italian Daniele Caimmi. The women's race is a Margaret Okayo's solo, winner in 2h24'59", still the race record. Italian Stefano Cialella, 78th at the finish line, is a true winner if you consider that he collected 500€ every km in aid of earthquake victims of his region.

2003

In a traffic-free Milan for the so called "eco-day", Kenyan John Birgen, registered at the very last moment, frustrates the international experience of Philip Tarus and Robert Cheruiyot. Among women Anne Jelagat, after winning in Venice a month before, wins also in Milan preceding Rosalba Console.

2004

Daniel Kiplagat Cheribo, from Kenya, crosses the finish line in 2h08'38", for a new race record. In second place Benjaimin Kipchumba (+45"). On the lowest step of the podium Enock Mitei (+2'14"). Best Italian is Vito Sardella, 8th at 8'54". The results show once again that the Milan route is really fast. The Italian women's hopes are placed in Gloria Marconi, but the pain in the back forces her to leave the road free to Rita Jeptoo who improves her personal best time of 7 minutes.

2005

On a day glacial the winner is a Portuguese at his marathon debut, 31-year-old Helder Ornelas, who runs a perfect race. Second place for Kenyan Kirui, at 1'29", and brilliant third place at 1'59" for Giuliano Battocletti. Among women the winner is Kenyan Hellen Kimutai, who finishes the race in 2h28'48" in front of Mexican Angelica Sanchez and Rebecca Moore from New Zealand.

2006

Milan Marathon tries a date change, two months before the traditional one. The race is decided at the 40th km, when Benson Cherono leaves behind Barus for a new race record, a new personal best and the best performance in Italy this year. African supremacy in the women's race, the Ethiopian Magarsa Tafa Axle precedes the Kenyan Hellen Kimutai and Anne Kosgei.

2007

Kenyan Evans Kiprop Cheruiyot is the winner, with a small margin (4 seconds) over with his compatriot John Birgen. The third step of the podium goes to the South African Norman Dlomo who finished the race in 2h10'39".

In the women's race another success made in Kenya: Pamela Chepchumba stops the clock at 2h25'36", in front of Marcella Mancini and Hungarian Petra Teveli.

Anna Incerti wins in 2h27'42" in front of Pamela Chepchumba and Merima Denboba.

In the men's race Duncan Kibet triumphs in 2h07'53", erasing Benson Cherono's race record. The podium is completed by fellow Kenyans Chelimo and Maina.

2010

A new date, at the begging of April, and a new course for a Milano Marathon dominated by young runners: 26-year-old Kenyan Jafred Kipchumba and the 23-year-old Ethiopian Asnakech Mengistu. Both of them established a new personal best as well.

2011

27 year-old Kenyan Solomon B. Naibei and the 39-year-old Italian Marcella Mancini win the eleventh edition of the Milano Marathon. Mancini passes, 1 km before the finish line, Kenyan Monica Kanyata, who dominates for three quarters of the race, but collapses in the final stretch.

2012

Kenyan supremacy in the 12th edition of the Milano Marathon characterized by bad weather. The success in the men's race goes to the Kenyan Daniel Too (2h08'39") who precedes compatriot Nickson Kurgat and Ethiopian Gemechu Biru. Among women, success of Kenyan Irene Kosgei in front of Italian Emma Quaglia and Eritrean Habtemariam Nebiat.

2013

The winner of the 13th edition is Ethiopian Gemechu Biru who finishes the race in 2h09'25" followed by compatriot Gosa Tefera only 11 seconds later (2h09'36") and Kenyan Marius Kipserem who finishes the marathon in 2h09'50". In the female race the victory goes to Kenyan Monica Jepkoech in 2h32'54", second is Ethiopian Tsehay Desalegn (2h32'55") and third Ababel Brihane (2h33'10").

2014

On the high step of the podium is Kenyan Francis Kiprop that concludes the marathon in 2h08'53" followed by Stephen Kipkemei Tum (2h10'41") and by Gebre Kibrom (2h11'12"). The women's podium was dominated by the Kenyan Visiline Jepkesho (2h28'40") followed by Kenyan Monica Jepkoech (2h34'48") and Ethiopian Tafa Megersa Megertu (2h35'41"). Italian Marathon Championship is awarded to Danilo Goffi (2h17'20") for the men, and Claudia Gelsomino (2h51'22") for the women.

2015

An edition to remember, with more than 15,000 entries between individual marathon and relay, and a world record in the M40 Master category by Kenneth Mungara (2h08'44"). Among women, impressive win for Lucy Karimi (2h27'35"). Haile Gebrselassie, the world icon of athletics and creator of the new path alongside the organizers, was a special participant of Europ Assistance Relay Marathon. Great success for the first edition of Milano School Marathon, with 3,000 children who ran 1.195 meters along the last part of the course of the real marathon.

2016

An edition with more than 20,000 participants in the various events, and good performances in the 42K, with Ernest Kiprono Ngeno that wins the marathon in 2h08'15". Like the previous year, Kenneth Mburu Mungara (third in 2h08'38") breaking the record of the category Master M40.

First among women, Brigid Kosgei crosses the finish line with a time of 2h27'45", dismantling her personal best by 20 minutes and 14 seconds. 2,583 teams finished the sixth edition of the Europ Assistance Relay Marathon.

An ideal temperature helps Kenyan Edwin Koech, who crosses the finish line in 2h07'13", to set the new race record. Kenneth Mungara is once again on the podium (2h09' 37 ") followed by Ethiopian Abdela Godana in third place. Italian Yassine Rachik finishes in sixth place in 2h13'22".

Kenyan Sheila Chepkech wins the women's race with a time of 2h29'52", followed by Sicilian Anna Incerti in 2h29'58", after a long head-to-head until the very last meters. Third is Ethiopian Waka Chaltu Tafa, and sixth other Italian Giovanna Epis.

In the men's race a really fast pace is established from the start. Split time at the 30th km is 1h30'09". Unfortunately, in the final stretch the temperature rise is significant and the pace slows down. Ethiopian Seifu Tura attacks in Corso Sempione, before the 38th km and goes on to win in 2h09'04" in front of Kimutai and Kiptum.

In the women's race Lucy Kabuu manages to beat, almost in a sprint to the line, Vivian Kiplagat. But Kabuu fails the doping control and is therefore disqualified. Sheila Chepkech and Doris Changeywo complete the podium.

There's a light rain in Milano, in a cool morning with temperature around 10°C. Maybe not ideal for a family walk in the park, but perfect for running fast. Very fast.

Led by pacer Justus Kimutai, a group of three Kenyans is together at the 30th kilometer: Edwin Koech (winner in 2017), Evans Chebet and Titus Ekiru. And it's Ekiru that makes the decisive move just before the 31st kilometer. Running alone for almost 12 kilometers, the young athlete crosses the finish line in 2h04'46", smashing the previous race record and the Italian all-comers record. Chebet and Koech complete the podium.

Even more impressive is Vivian Kiplagat's win. At the half marathon she's already left her competitors behind and she keeps a steady pace, finish in 2h22'25'', another course record, another Italian all-comers record. Joan Kigen and Abebe Ayelu, very distanced, complete the podium.

Course Description

Because of Covid-19 restrictions, the race course for Generali Milano Marathon 2021 is very different from the traditional one. With a significant effort, we've managed to keep the race in the city center: start and finish will be inside Parco Sempione, next to the Castello Sforzesco, one of the iconic monuments of the city.

The course consists of two loop routes: the first one of 4,695 meters to be run once, the second one of 7,500 meters to be run five times.

LAP 1 (4,695 m)

KM 1 Start from inside Parco Sempione (built in the late nineteenth century on the area already occupied by the Piazza d'Armi, on an area of 386,000 m²) near the Castello Sforzesco. After about 300 meters, turn right, skirting the west perimeter of the Park with some small undulations and passing near the Palazzo dell'Arte, which houses the Milan Triennale. The first kilometer is located at the beginning of the long curve to the right of via Canova.

KM 2 Continue along Via Canova, with the road always bending to the right, up to the intersection with Corso Sempione, the monumental road axis built in the Napoleonic era, which you take the opposite route turning left. Pass the Rai Television Production Center on the left and reach the second kilometer, just before the intersection with via Domodossola.

KM 3 After the intersection with via Domodossola, make a U-turn on the right, and take Corso Sempione towards the Arco della Pace (built in neoclassical style and inaugurated in 1838) clearly visible in the distance. Turn left into via Melzi D'Eril (continuation of the semicircle started in via Canova) and after a short stretch you reach kilometer three.

KM 4 Continue along the curve to the right of via Melzi d'Eril, then continue straight for about 200 meters and then turn left into Viale Elvezia, which runs alongside the monumental Arena Civica (also from the Napoleonic era), authentic "temple" of Milanese athletics. Kilometer four is located shortly after the right turn into via Legnano.

KM 4.695 You complete the circular route around Parco Sempione, where you return from the eastern side, along viale Gadio. Below the finish line, the athletes will finish the first lap of 4,695 meters and begin the first of the remaining five laps, all from exactly 7,500 meters.

LAP 2-6 (7,500 m)

KM 5 At the exit from the park, instead of continuing straight as at the start, turn left and after about 100 meters you will reach kilometer 5.

KM 6 Go along Piazza Castello in its entirety, first straight, then in a wide curve to the left, finally straight again, up to the curve to the right in Viale Gadio and, after a while, to the right again in Foro Buonaparte, where, after approx. 100 meters, you will find kilometer 6.

KM 7 Continue along Foro Buonaparte, the only cobblestone section of the route, passing the Largo Cairoli roundabout (from which you can see the Castello Sforzesco on the right (in the previous section the Castle was to the left of the athletes). After the long curve to the right, a straight stretch begins, near the Cadorna railway station.

KM 8 Join the track on which you have already raced in the first lap, the wavy one that runs alongside Parco Sempione and the Triennale. Shortly after the Triennale there is the reference of km 7.5 (which corresponds to km 15 and 30). Kilometer 8 is located in the initial stretch of via Canova.

KM 9 At the end of via Canova, as in the previous lap, take Corso Sempione, which runs for a slightly longer stretch. Kilometer 9 is located about 300 meters before the U-turn.

KM 10 Still on Corso Sempione, in the direction of the Arco della Pace and the city center. Kilometer 10 (which coincides with km 25 and 40) is located right in the center of the intersection with Via Procaccini.

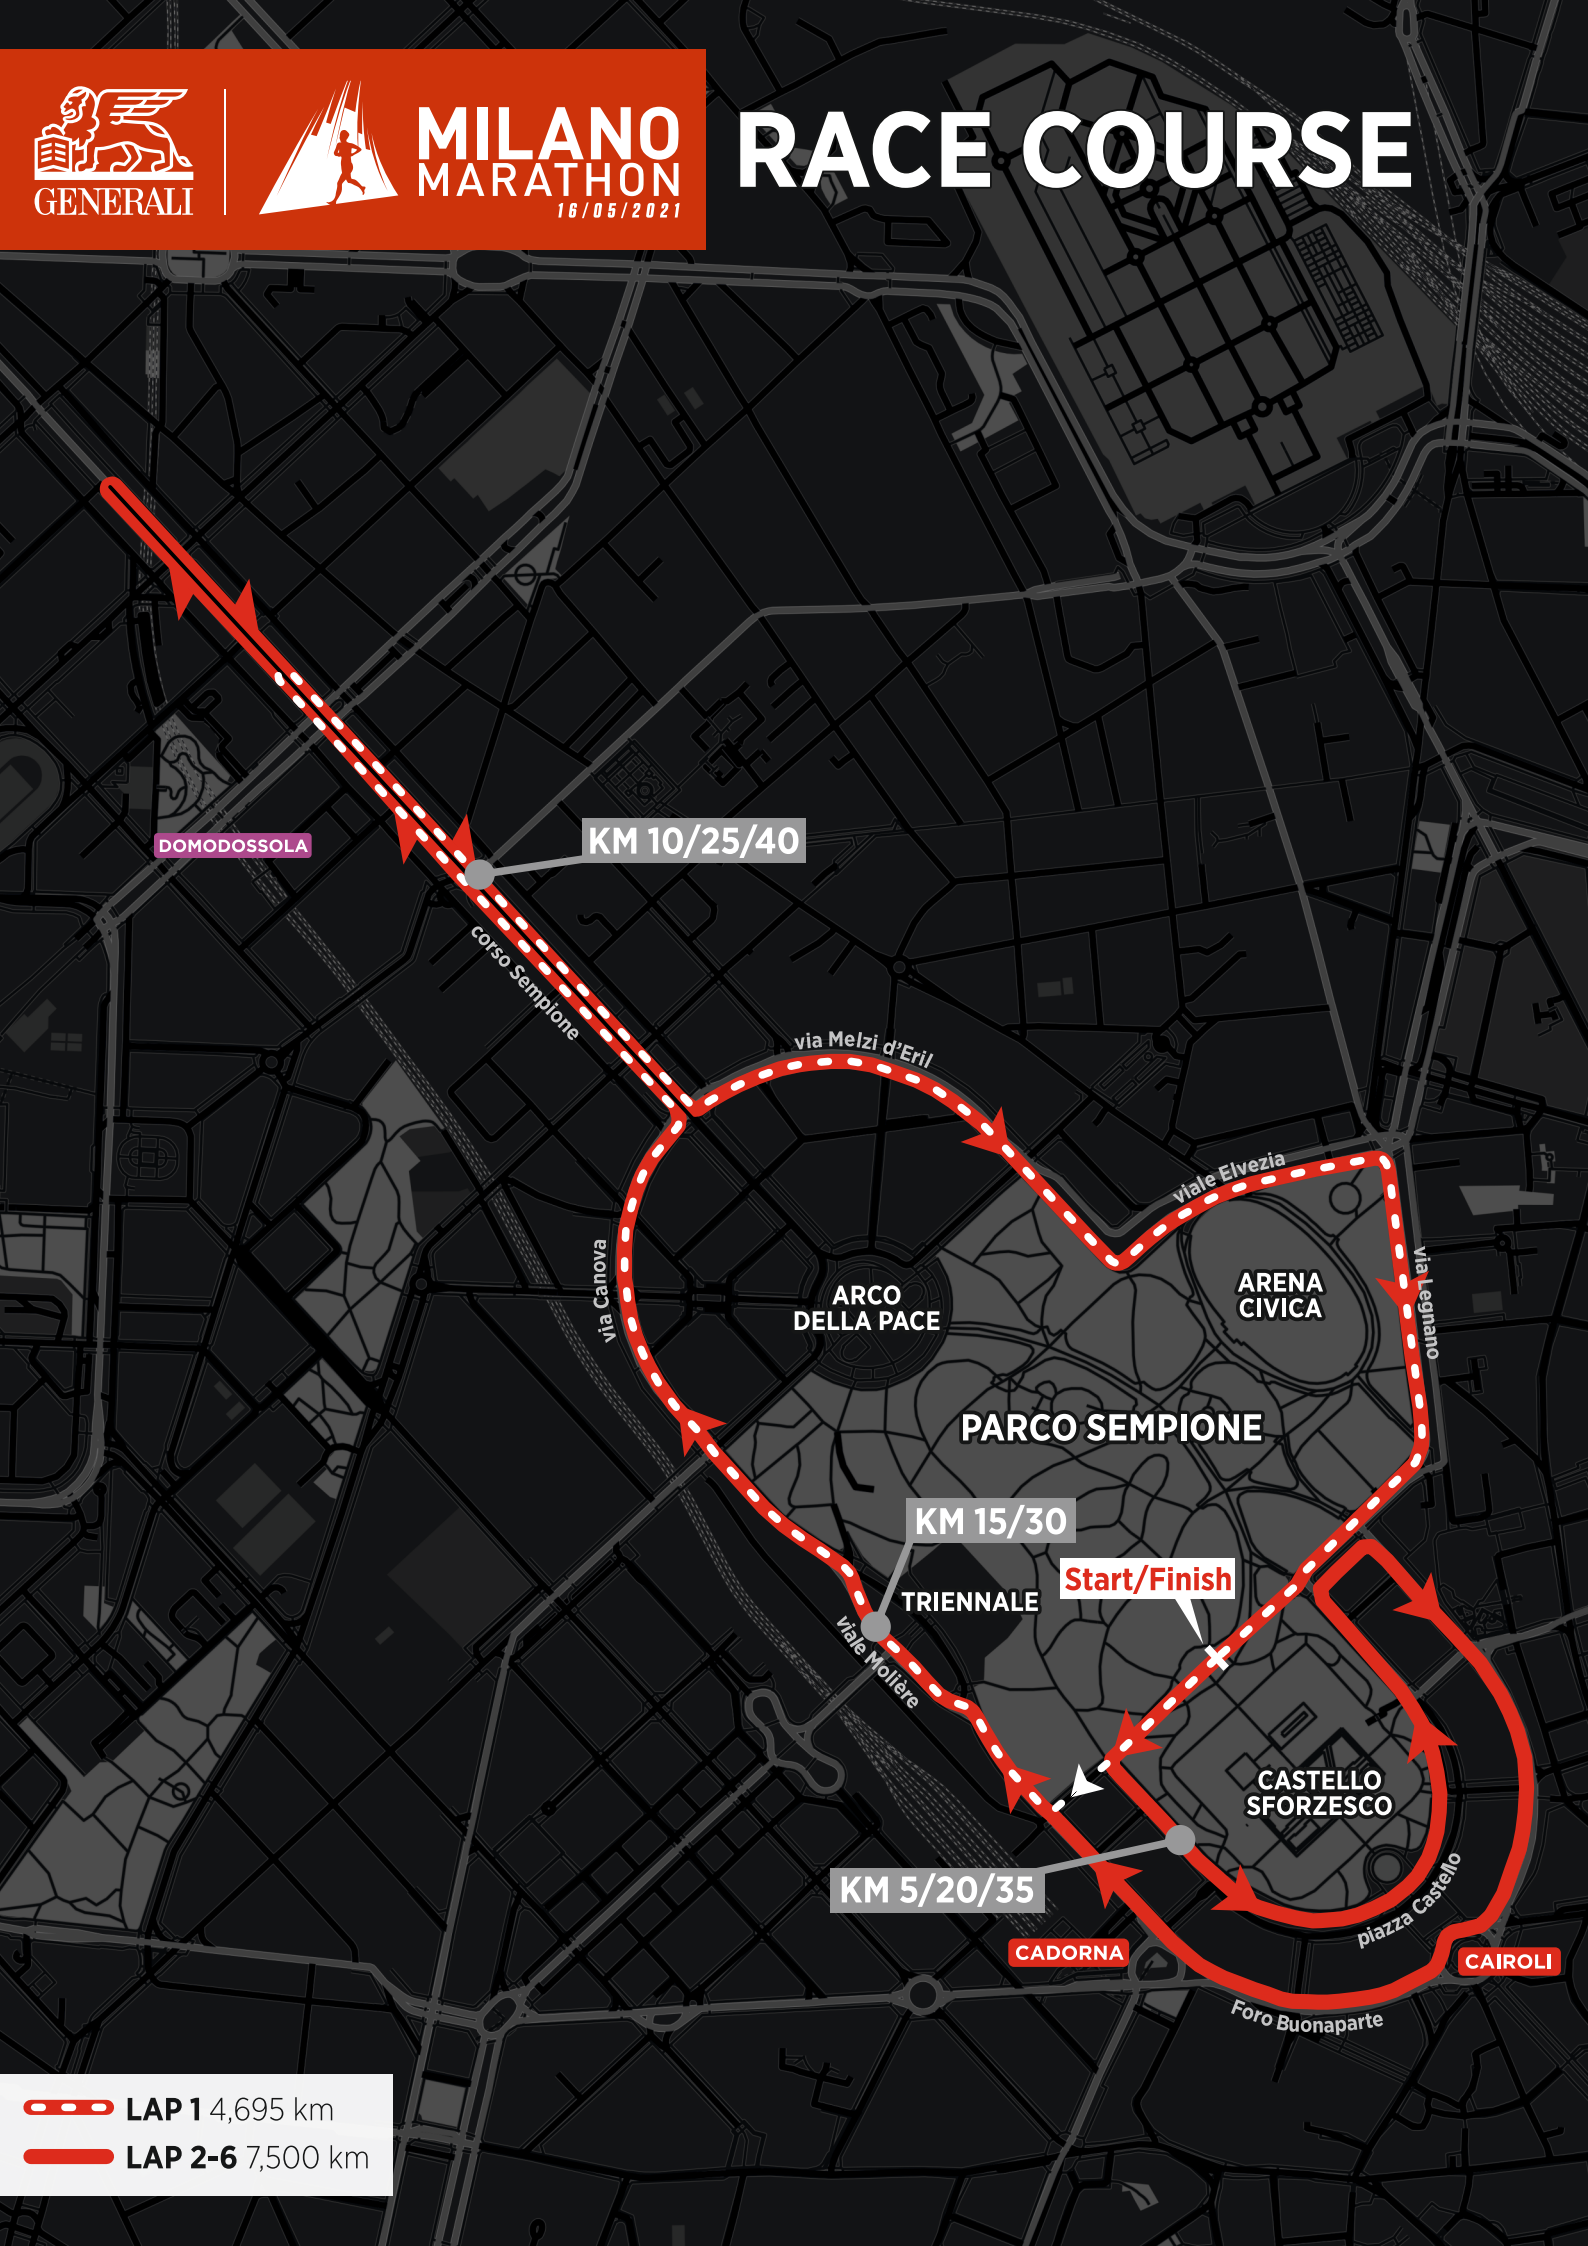

KM 11 At the end of Corso Sempione, turn left onto Via Melzi d'Eril, which you follow exactly as you did in the previous lap. Kilometer 11 is located about 200 meters before the passage near the Civic Arena.

KM 12.195 Continue along Parco Sempione, with the Arena and then the Aquarium visible on your right. You enter the park, and when you pass under the portal you will be exactly at km 12.195. From this moment there are still 4 identical laps to go to the finish line.

Start list – WOMEN (full list ordered by bib number)

Disclaimer: first and last names are listed as per athlete's passport. Because of particular naming conventions used in Eritrea and Ethiopia (individual personal name and a separate patronymic, without family name) athletes from these countries are often better known by their patronymic.

In red, athletes whose participation has been canceled by their managers after the issuing of bib numbers.
